Infant News

Welcome July!

Summer is here, and lots of new things to explore. In July we are going to be doing a lot of projects and having water days every Tuesday, so make sure to add sunscreen before school and dress your child in his/her swimsuits. Be sure to read to your child every night. Please make sure you label all bottles and caps with the child's full name. Miss. Michelle

July

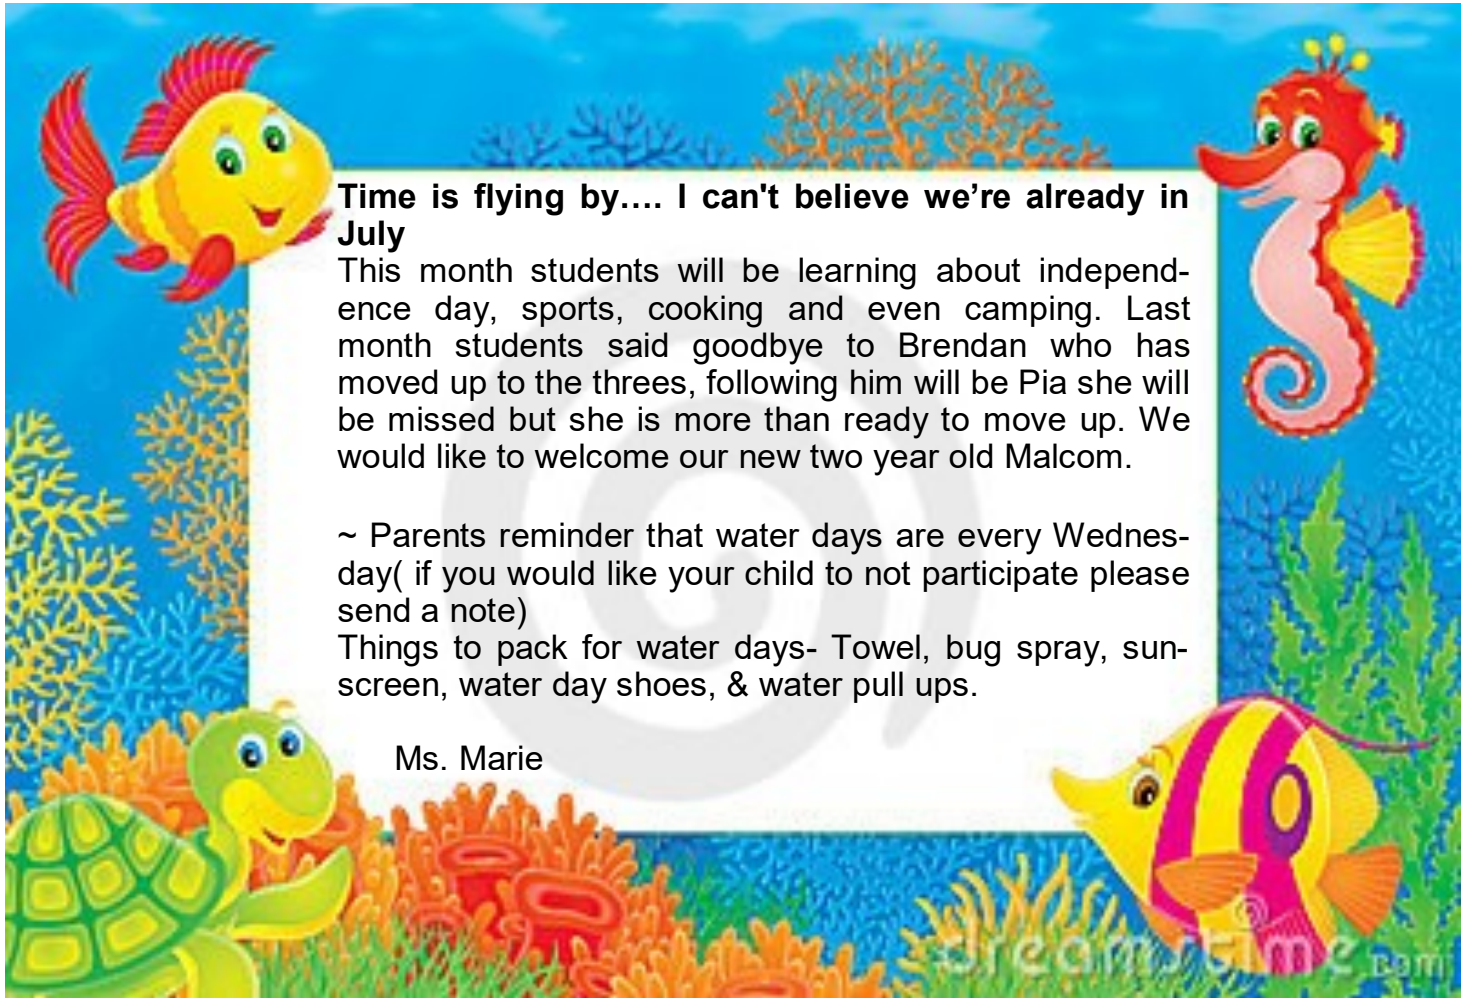

The fun continues! July is here and this month the kiddies will be learning about under the sea adventures and will be focusing on the letters O/Y, the number 12, the shape octagon and the color grey. We have 2 birthdays this month, Malcolm will be turning 2 and so will Derek. I am excited to be the one's new teacher and I am learning more about their personalities day by day and I have to say their really grown adults in kids bodies, all very smart! We have water days planned ahead so we will inform you when to bring bathing suits. May the fun begin!

Thank you, Miss Louna

Two's News

Three's News

Summer, summer its time to enjoy the sun and have some fun. Summer is finally here and the kids are super excited to learn all the cool things that come with summer. Parents please remember water day is on THURSDAY and to bring your child all their swim day needs. Also parents Friday is PJ day in our class so please bring your PJ's.

Love. Ms. Loissa

Camp News

We would like to thank you all who have been very supportive and shared their time with us. We are continuing to do fun activities including cooking, and eating ,what we make. During July we are moving our water day to Mondays. Please wear your suites and bring clothes and a towel. Don't forget to apply sunscreen.

Remember to read to your child everyday, this helps to improve their vocabulary and language skills. Thanks, Ms. Carolina
